Torrance Welcomes...

New Torrance residents are the Arthur Campbells, formerly of Los Angeles, who have just moved into a new home at 821 Patronella avenue.

Campbell is employed at the U. S. Post Office in Westchester. The Campbells have three children, Ronnie 7, Kathleen 2 and Diane Lynn 5 months.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin B. Chandler have become local residents at 1328 Cordary avenue. They have one child, Theodora, 11.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Chandler are employed by the Redondo Beach schools. They formerly lived in Inglewood.

Newcomers to this city now living at 17208 Glenburn avenue are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin C. Williams, formerly of Long Beach.

Williams has been employed at General Petroleum here for 11 years. Reason for moving, Williams said, is so that he can be closer to work.

Cosmetology Holds Open House at EC

El Camino College's cosmetology department held an open house program last night from 7 to 10 o'clock.

Cosmetology instructors Beulah Grace and Marguerite Robinson invited the public to see the modern beauty school in operation.

Demonstrations of hairstyling and an open forum were included in the program, which also featured student demonstrations of correct makeup application, manicuring and contoured haircutting.

El Camino's cosmetology school started operation in September. It was the first such school to be opened in Los Angeles County in the past 12 years.

Mesdames Grace and Robinson have announced a few openings are still available in a new class to start in February, and that tuition is free to residents of the college district.

Agriculture Dinner Set For Tuesday

The El Camino College agriculture department has announced its third annual dinner to be held December 18 at 7:30 p.m. in the Campus Center building at the college.

The first dinner was held for the veterans' poultry class only. The second annual dinner was expanded to include the adult poultry class. J. M. Mills, assistant director of instruction, announced this year that growth in enrollment in the agriculture department has been recognized by extending an invitation to members of all classes, including horticulture, rabbit and poultry for both day and evening classes.

As in previous years, members of the college board of trustees, college administration, agriculture advisory board, state department of education and the Veterans' Administration will be present.

Guest of honor for the dinner and speaker of the evening will be Dr. Julian A. McPhee, president of California Polytechnic College in San Luis Obispo.

Tickets for the steak dinner are $2 and may be purchased at the college or reservations may be made by calling Menlo 44631. The agriculture department has extended an invitation to all in the community who are interested.

North Torrance Group Finishes Party Plans

Final plans are being completed for the December 22 Christmas party for North Torrance children under the sponsorship of the North Torrance Civic Improvement Association.

The party will begin at 6:30 p.m. in the Campus center at El Camino college. Santa Claus is scheduled to make an appearance during the evening.

Arrangements have also been made for Santa to take a quick trip around the North Torrance area to visit any child who, because of illness, cannot get to the party. A call to Mrs. Ann Collins at Menlo 47139 will fix up a personal visit from St. Nick.
